Vikings Open Grid Season With Blue Devils At Gaylord Saturday

The Vikings lost the season opener last year to Gaylord by the tight score of 7 to 6 in a fumble on the try for extra point following the Grayling touchdown erased a chance for a tie. The Viking squad have been taking some really rough workouts under their new coach and have come up with blazing speed in the backfield with Duane Worden, Monte Malonen and freshman Lloyd Failing leading the pack. Grayling's big question mark is the forward wall. If the linemen can open holes, the Viking specialists will be off for the race.

How To Cook Muskrat . . .

The Saturday Evening Post has been running a series of brief articles, written by Sidney Shalett, showing how your tax money is wasted. A recent one dealt with "Uncle Sam's Book-of-the-Minute Club."

The government, it seems is in the book business on a colossal scale. Some 70,000 different books, pamphlets and periodicals are available from the Government Printing Office. Some are given away, and some are sold—usually at a below-cost figure.

One Senator has stated that Agriculture Department publications alone would make a stack 52 feet high. Among the all-important subjects covered in this mass of literature are "The Cuban Frog Leg Industry," "The Venezuelan Salt Fish Industry," and the book to end all books, "Recipes for Cooking Muskrat Meat."

This is an example of how the taxpayers' money is spent on projects which are of interest to an infinitesimal number of people. Government book-publishing, of course, is like everything else in government. Those involved want better jobs and more authority. They want to seem important and, if possible, irreplaceable. So they get out more and more books whether there is any demand or reason for them or not.

There isn't a department of government which isn't honeycombed with waste and duplication of effort. There isn't a department where money couldn't be saved without affecting any essential activity. And the total saving, according to Senator Byrd and other authorities, could be as much as $10,000,000,000 a year. When will a start be made?

Greenville, Ill., Advocate: "Never in the history of a nation has prosperity been subsidized so lavishly and so wastefully. A false prosperity does exist, but it is built on pillars of sand and no sound economic development. It is bred of inflation and two decades of phenomenal government spending."

SCHOOL TIME BRINGS CHILD SAFETY PLEA

With the reopening of schools and nearly one and one-half million Michigan children crossing streets and highways on their way to and from classrooms, Sergeant Hiram Grimson, commander of the Houghton Lake State Police post, is urging all persons to take part in the current statewide child safety campaign.

"Last year," Sergeant Grimson said, "8,247 children under 13 years of age were killed or injured in Michigan traffic, an average of about 180 casualties each week. More often than not the children were victims of their own carelessness, but many of the tragedies could have been avoided if drivers had been more alert and expecting the unexpected."

"Drivers should take special precautions, not only in school and playground areas, but in all areas where children are likely to be. They also should always remember that thousands of preschool age children will be outdoors during all hours of the day. In other words, children may be anywhere, any time."

"Likewise, adult pedestrians, parents especially, can help prevent accidents involving children by practicing safe walking habits. Adults should realize that their own actions are examples boys and girls observe and follow. Too often these are examples of carelessness."

"Help protect children. For their sake — as well as your own — walk and drive carefully." The slogan of the campaign, which is sponsored by the State Safety Commission, is "Watch Out For Kids."

law of the groom, mother of honor chose a navy blue suit. Each wore corsages of pink carnations. Lloyd Soper was best man for his brother.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue suit and a corsage of roses. The groom's mother wore lavender and a yellow rose corsage.

A reception was held in the evening at the home of the groom's mother. The three tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom. After refreshments were served the newlyweds opened their many lovely gifts.

Mrs. Betty Wilson of Saginaw was an out of town guest.

Beverly attended Grayling High School and Ralph, Greenville High School.

For the present Mr. and Mrs. Soper are at home to their friends in Karen Woods.

Move over, Texas! Michigan will soon have something to brag about that even the Lone Star State can't match — a bridge five miles long, with a 3,900-foot span, soaring 565 feet above the historic Straits of Mackinac.

"The bridge is closer to reality today than ever before in our history," says Prentiss M. Brown, former United States Senator and now chairman of the Mackinac Bridge Authority.

Let's ask Brown a few questions that Michiganders have been wondering about:

Can a bridge be built at reasonable cost which will withstand all the forces of nature?

"Yes," asserts Brown. "Leading engineers, experienced with long-span construction, says that a Straits bridge would pose no problem which hasn't already been solved."

Winds are pretty strong up at

THE STRAITS. Will we be having another Gullwing Gerty, the bridge that blew down at Tacoma on our hands?

"The bridge is designed to withstand 120-mile-per-hour winds; the highest ever clocked there has been 78 miles per hour. Piers and anchorages have been designed to stand under the thick ice and heavy currents of the Straits, too."

A University of Michigan professor said the rock on which the bridge would stand is cavernous and would collapse. How about that?

"He has since retracted his statement. Expert geologists have made tests that emphasize the fact that the bridge would stand on very substantial formations."

Do you have to dig far to reach solid rock?

"The south anchorage would go down 140 feet. The San Francisco Bay Bridge went down 240 feet."

How long would it take to build the bridge?

Four or five years, depending on weather and availability of materials.

Will the bridge be useable in all kinds of weather?

"In any kind of weather you can ordinarily drive a car and particularly, in all weather that the ferry boats can operate in."

All that sounds mighty good but there's always a joker in buying anything you like very much: How much does it cost? How do we pay for it?

Brown has an answer for that, too. "Toll rates — exactly the same as those charged by ferries now — would pay for the $85 million project. The State would not have to obligate any of its general fund money for that," explains the dynamic chairman.

"Present ferry tolls gross $1.4 million a year. That wouldn't be enough to pay interest and principal, but traffic experts predict that a bridge would increase traffic so much that in the early years of the bridge tolls would be $3.5 to $4 million. That would grow, too, just as ferry crossings have in the past."

On August 22, a Saturday but nowhere near a holiday, nearly 8,500 vehicles were carried across the eight-mile ferry route. That was an all-time record and nearly doubled the peak load of 1942.

More than half of the present ferry business comes from Illinois, Ohio, Indiana, and points east. That are all heavily populated and rapidly growing sections of our nation. The potential added tourist trade from these parts hasn't been touched yet.

The bridge itself would lure tens of thousands of visitors and its convenience would take many more along US-2 for transcontinental travel, say men who study traffic trends.

There's another economic factor involved in crossing the Straits. The State loses more than a half-million dollars annually operating ferry service. As demands increase that deficit gets larger.

The $3 to $5 million invested in new boats and docks in the past three years would have built a lot of State highways, Brown points out.

Upper peninsula businessmen would purchase many more of their requirements from Lower Michigan instead of Wisconsin and Illinois if a bridge speeded transportation.

"Scores of businessmen hesitate to expand above the Straits because they cannot depend upon the arrival of shipments on schedule," says Brown. He knows, too, because he spent most of his life on the northern shores of the Straits. "They can't afford to tie up their men and equipment waiting for ferries, either."

He envisions the new bridge transmuting fresh economic blood into the UP-Country which hasn't been flush since the days of the copper and lumber booms. And that, he contends, will help the financial security of all Michiganders.

Sen. Brown's group was formed by the Legislature in 1950 to study the physical and economic feasibility of the bridge. After it reported that no real obstacles stand in the way, the Authority was empowered to finance and build the structure.

Since then the Authority has been ringing doorbells to find the millions needed for the job. It has applied to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for such a loan and has invited private financial firms to bid on bonds it would issue.

The latter have reported that without the State underwriting the loan to some extent, such bonds would be hard to sell. The law creating the Authority prohibits pledging the faith and credit of the State so it appears that the RFC is the key.

A report due any day now is expected to lend much weight to the Authority's arguments. It's by Coverdale & Colpitts, New York traffic experts, who made previous reports and now are bringing data up to date that the Authority feels sure will demonstrate both to RFC and private financiers that their investment would be sound and profitable.

For fifty years the people of Michigan have dreamed about a bridge to link the two great peninsulas of our state," Brown recalls. "We believe that if people can have the bridge at no greater cost than they now pay for ferries, they would much prefer it."

"I know that many people enjoy the boat ride across the Straits. Most people enjoy a horse-and-buggy ride, too. But they wouldn't swap their auto for a surrey with a fringe on top."

"Barring upheavals in the international situation, it appears that a bridge at the Straits is virtually on its way," observes the former senator.

Texan Better do your bragging now; Michigan is coming up with a real whopper!

THE CENTRAL IDEA

Things you'd like to know about your Railroad

More Power to 'CENTRALAND'

NEW YORK CENTRAL SYSTEM

1. PRODUCTION FOR FREEDOM is the theme of the private power companies. Back of it is the biggest post-war expansion program of any United States industry. In the area served by New York Central, these companies are investing $6 billion in new electric power facilities.

2. MAN WITH 210 HELPERS! The 14,000 kilowatt hours a year used by the average U.S. worker are equal to 210 helpers! That's why the 16,000,000 kilowatts of generating capacity private power companies are adding between 1944-54 in Central territory are so vital to new industry.

3. KILOWATTS BY THE CARLOAD! Most of that new capacity will come from efficient, low-cost, year-round steam power plants that burn coal. And with 28,000 new coal cars added to its fleet since 1945, New York Central will be well equipped to deliver "kilowatts by the carload!"

4. NOT ONLY COAL, but big transformers, generators, spools of power cable move dependably and economically by train. So do the things electricity helps produce in your town and every town on New York Central. That's transportation for freedom. And it's the CENTRAL IDEAL.
